It has been recently stated that an effort was about being made by parties interested in such a movement, to induce the Ontario Government to establish a chair of Physiology in connection with the School of Practical Science in Toronto. The establishment of such a chair for the teaching of this department, so far as embraced in their curriculum, would no doubt benefit the arts students in University College, but would not, as things are at present, be of any general service to medical education, but rather a detriment, as it would furnish an excuse to any parsimonious medical college for not equipping itself with suitable apparatus for teaching practical physiology. So far as medical education in Toronto is concerned, Trinity Medical College has taken the lead in this matter, and has, at her own expense, fitted up a well-equipped physiological laboratory, to which additions will be made from time to time, until it is made second to none, either in Europe or America. The teaching of the practical branches, such as practical physiology, biology, chemistry, and botany, requires special preparation, and necessarily involves considerable time, hence it cannot, in the interests of the medical student be profitably engaged in during the winter session, when so much didactic and clinical work are upon his hands. It would be well, therefore, we think, to make arrangements for the teaching of these branches during the summer months, and this movement would...
