

I've Baked A Fresh Cobbler: (A Jericho Book) (Paperback)

By T. F. Platt

AUTHORHOUSE, United States, 2004. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.The story is set in rural Michigan early in the twentieth century and opens in the spring soon after Edith's second birthday. Papa Clarence and Edith are in the snowy yard to feed the birds. Momma Clydis is in the kitchen beginning an arduous day. Old Sniffer lies in a shed nearby with Tawny and her five pups, the dogs to add humor and nuisance throughout the tale. It soon develops that pastoral serenity is marred by troubles far and beyond the frisky dogs. Something real deep troubles Momma. Family and friends pitch in, coping with episodes of terror and of distance she displays. A mysterious white oak dresser is paramount to resolving her plight. The story is flavored by colorful, often humorous characters sharing situations of suspense, romance, glee, terror, tragedy, passion, woe, and triumph as the families cope with Clydis problem coupled with home reconstruction, timber harvesting, Indian affairs, child birth, horse run-a-ways, and the five rambunctious pups. Electrification comes into home and community spawning industry not unlike a gold rush. The town installs sewer and main and some of...

Reviews

Extensive information for book fans. It is written in basic words and never hard to understand. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.
