A play about the science of life and loss, the relationships between fathers and sons, Cambodian fields, Bolivian rainforests and redemption. Max Forrestal is going to fail Biology if he doesn t complete a 20-page paper on extinction by 2pm on Tuesday - but his mother, Lily, is dying of cancer, and school is the last thing on his mind. His father, Ellery, a biologist obsessed with saving a rare Bolivian insect, is incapable of dealing with his wife s impending death, or his son s distress. Max s biology teacher, Khim Phan, tries to figure out why Max is failing the class. Helping Max, however, pushes Khim into a magical journey of his own - from the Cambodian fields of his youth into the undiscovered country beyond. Critic s Choice.artfully balances its theme of mortality between the intimate and the macroscopic. .explores inner psychological states with remarkable eloquence and clarity. -Phillip Brandeis, Los Angeles Times. The interplay of the three [views on extinction] in Lewis smart and honest script is one small push away from collective transcendence -Amy Nicholson, LA Weekly.
