By Nadeem Feroze

CreateSpace Independent Publishing Platform. Paperback. Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. 36 pages. Dimensions: 8.5in. x 5.5in. x 0.1in. The Christian population in Pakistan is estimated between 1.9 percent and 13 percent. While the total Christian population is in dispute, Catholic diocesan records show 2.28 percent of the population as the maximum number of Catholics in the total population of the dioceses in Pakistan. The one fact that is not in dispute is the religious terrorism being conducted against Christians. This is not isolated to this region but sadly is becoming more common throughout the world. There are many untold stories of Christians who have lost their lives. The story of Nadeem Feroze is one story that can be told and serves as a voice for all the other stories that cannot be told those whose voices have been silenced. Nadeem's voice is still heard through his emails, which describe his spiritual journey as a Catholic and an Oblate of Saint Benedict, and the daily cross he had to bear as a result. Nadeem Feroze passed on to the Lords embrace in martyrdom as a victim of this terrorism on the 27th of May, 2012. He found the...
